In the first half, Minkowski's introduction of Don Juan, followed by beautiful strings, sensational woodwinds, created dramatic effects. The powerful last movement also well portrayed the fate of Don Juan. The second half featuring Rameau's pieces were also wonderfully performed, bringing audience back to the days when the pieces were written.

Minkowski's conducting is very dramatic, passionate, yet full of details. Don Juan makes the audiences felt like they were part of the story. Rameau was also exceptional.
